The Long and Short Haul Clause.

All the great commercial cities on the seaboard would be injured by knocking the long and short haul clause of the railroad bill. This clause is simply a legal recognition of natural conditions. The effort to defeat it is due to the desire of minor interior cities like Denver, Salt Lake City, Cmaha and Kansas City to be placed in the same category for transportation purposes as New York, Boston, Chicago, New Orlean, Baltir pre, San Francisco, Scattle and Portland, which have free water communication with all the world.

Los Angeles made a strengo is fight for years to get in the markime class, and finally succeeded. The advantage she gained: would be lost if the law should now prohibit a smaller charge, proportionarely, for a long haul than a short one. The effect of the law wou'd be to compel all products to seek the shortest route to the sea and tear down established trade centers to build up new ones where natural advantages do not exist. The proposal to climinate the long and short had clause is neither more nor less than a proposition to abrogate the laws of trade and forbid the utilization of the advantages nature has affor led.

That is why Reed Stroot, the Mormon Senator from Utah, so vigorously advocates it. I e want to place Salt Lake City on the same plane with Chicago, notwith tanding the fact that Chicago is the central point for a vast system of internal navigation and has an open outlet for occan imitis through the Welland canal and the St. Lawrence river. Salt Lake has no sea outlet and no internal waterway transportation. Yet amout hel the hardihood to assert that, Chicago gets convessions from the railroads because she is powerful enough to force them.

The railroads must meet water rates at Chicago, and that is the reason why Chicago gets concessions. St. Louis commands concessions because the Hississippi river runs by her door, affording cheap and quick water tran portation to the seaboard. The railways reaching to the east must meet this water competition or lose the trade of St. Louis. It is the same with Cleveland, Buffalo, Toledo. Milwan's gaind the other cities sit sited on the Great Lakes or on large navigable rivers.

The Abject Democracy.

Never in the history of California was there such apathy and indifference in the Democratic par y on the eye of a Gabernatorial election. The reason is not far to seek. Theodore Bell has constituted himself the party, and the party, as a political organization, is shrinking to his size, and hence it has become too small and narrow for a large class of Democrat, who cherish the absurd notion that the party has a noble; mission than to serve the ambition of one petry rural demagogue whose rise in prominence is contemporaneous with the decline of Democratic virility and prestige. Four years ago Bell courted the labor unions and even sought the good offices of Abraham Ruel, and now be is claiming the seat of honor amount of heavers sees in the form president, hoping to increase it to propoin Democratic counsels because he has alienated the support of or- will contour ever the Russell estree in spector; and that," he soil, an in ganized labor. I because he claim preferment because he has in- basen has reduced less when from a new as any men ought to want." sulted the veteran leaders of his party by asserting that anylody $710,000 to $100,000 and in Carden. The cost of twing to a vyers has law; an ready charged more than the who contests his candidacy or opposes his schemes is a tool of the N. J., there for timey in churchers advenced since then, Mr., we are the easted practitioners of today. Therefore the Democratic party of California, so far as this campaign is concerned, is merely a small rabble of Bell foilowers who inspire the laughter of Republicars and the melanchely contempt of men who are Democrat on principle,

The protest against the collection of poll tax by Alaskan officials from the fishermen who go to Alaska to work for the cauneries during the summer nonths seems to be grounded in justice. The fish rown are merely tempotory sojourners in Alaska, being citizens of California, Oregon and Washington. Some of them are foreigners. They do not cwell in Alaska or use the roads of that Territory. It is an imposition to compel them to pay poll tax simply because they accept emplo ment in Alaska for about three months in the year; indeed it is alin to robbery of poor men under the forms of law. However, impositions of this character are practiced in the of the count es of California-workmen on railroads. oil wells and other transient jobs being pounced upon by the Assessors and compelled to pay poll ax because they are temporarily employed where they do not reside. Viewed in the most favorable light, the policies has little to justify it, and collecting it from the rach who fish along the coast a small part of the year is nothing there then at exaction. The powers of government should not be employed to write dy nob poor men in such a way,

Evident's Abana K. Datwiller - not to be tried without benefit of eletgy. Rev. S. D. Het inpiller of Berkeley, who calls Detwiler friend and follows in his is nocence, had the moral courage to greet the acrossol tolerdishe tang rate with a friendly handshake in court. Doublices the divine will be harshly criticized for appearing in court as the friend of a man accused of crime, but if he has the approval of a clear conscience be can bear with fortitude the scorn and sneers that will be hur'ed at him. The Pharisces railed at Jesus for consorting with publicans and slandrs. It may be that Rev. Hatsinpiller believes that even sinners are not wholly undeserving of sympathy, and that the friendship which deserts its object at the ap-1 proach of trouble and the threat of disgrace is a shabby pretense. Detwiler must answer to the laws of his country for his conduct. and while the courts have the matter in hand we shall not presume to pass upon his guilt or innocency, but it is to his credit that he has inspired such feelings of confidence and friendship in a minister of the gospel that the clergy nan is willing to brave public obloquy to manifest his sympathy and friendship. The dergyman may be mistaken in his friend, but he is nevertheless to be admired for his constancy and for his courage in sticking to his convictions. But he will probably have to meet the charge that he was inspired by base and venal motives to give Detwiler a handshake in public and sit beside him in court

Many Women Claim Tetlow as Their Husbands

FITTSBURG .-- That Cel. James T. Tetiow is the champion married map was the conclusion reached by the Pittsburg police, who have been distening to deserted females and trying to unravel some matrimonial tangles which Tellow left behind when he fled to New York some days ago after marrying protty Ethel Jordan, the 18-year-old sister of the woman who elding to have been his wife for five mentls. Peserted wives up to date agree that from what Tellow told them of his travels he may have married forty women.

Wife No. 4 reported from the West Virginia district, and trace has been found of No. 5 in the far west.

Col. Totlow and his chi d wife were in New York. From the Grand Control siction they sent a John letter of protest to an afternoon paper in Philaburg asserting Jordan, who had been classified here as wife No. 2. Tetlow admits that he had promised to marry Clara, &c.

Tellow evidently forget himself, however, as in the same mull be sent a postcard to wife No. 2, addressing her as Mrs. Clara Tellow, and writing, "What's the use of kicking. We are both happy, James." New York, Terlow twits Mrs. Jordan, mother of wives Nos. 2 and 3, that Chara, the one left behind, could not show a marriage certificate.

Clara is certain now that she has been
